

Sense of Wonder

chi ha paura...?

Ilkka Suppanen Collar and Cuff

'In the last century, we moved out of our villages where everyone knew the social class to which they belonged, and who was the blacksmith's son or the farmer's daughter. Nowadays, most of us live in cities, where no one knows where you come from or what you're like. Identity has to be created over and over again with unknown people. Like other things that you use, such as your clothes, shoes, watch and phone, jewellery has become an important way of expressing your identity.'

product: bracelet / necklace material: fluorescent 3M Scotchlite film and gilding dimensions: 15 x 4 cm / 7 x 6.5 cm prototype development: Tiny Leeuwenkamp; Vakschool Schoonhoven: Persis van Schaik

